AGENDA FOR TELEPHONE INTERVIEW

Sir:

I would like to request a telephone interview on March 1, 2005. Please consider the following topics for discussion:

- Neither the allegedly admitted prior art nor IE 5.0 teaches or suggests modifying an attribute of a component of a document to clarify display of the document based on a set of user preferences to form a clarified document in response to activation of a clarification control.
- While the cited portion of IE 5.0 does teach configuring settings for user authentication, there is no teaching of modifying an attribute of a component of a document to form a clarified document in response to the user authentication.
- Neither Applicants' allegedly admitted prior art nor IE 5.0 teaches or suggests creating an intermediate modified document, as recited in claims 12, 13, and 23.
- Selection of the Tools → Internet Options → Accessibility activates a configuration dialog that allows a user to change preferences. However, the settings are always applied to documents at the time the documents are displayed. In other words, when a document is retrieved for display, the current settings, whatever they
